

Paracetamol Ip 500mg Uses

I was concerned that some categories are getting diffused unnecessarily, and that we might be hurting ordinary users' ability to search intuitively. So I made an overview-table of the current "diffusion-state" (with suggested "improvements") of major biography categories here: Wikipedia talk:Categoryization#Category diffusion overview. -84user (talk) 03:26, 10 July 2008 (UTC) e603496d64 I agree; there was no consensus for such a significant change. Also, I'm not entirely sure what the benefit is. -Juliancolton | Talk 18:01, 23 April 2009 (UTC) e603496d64

Wikipedia:Village pump (policy)/Archive 50 general ranges and LD50s not appropriate :-) Sure the standard 500mg a paracetamol and 300mg aspirin (with doses of 50-100mg as low-dose in cardioprotection) == Category diffusion overview == e603496d64

== Nat Faxon == e603496d64 well, it can be notified in several places, but... e603496d64

Wikipedia:Articles for creation/2007-07-11 The capsules generally contain 500mg of Paracetamol and 15mg of Codeine Phosphate. The medicine may cause drowsiness == Untitled ==. suffering moderate to severe pain e603496d64

There was no consensus, and I oppose the change. ||—TreasuryTag►contribs—|| 18:01, 23 April 2009 (UTC) e603496d64

Wikipedia:Administrators' noticeboard/Archive191 question here. The following section states (in bold) "It only requires 10-15 500mg tablets to kill you";, according to User:PainMan, who I will notify of this == Proposed deletions now seven days == e603496d64

I'd suggest adding further comments at Wikipedia talk:Proposed deletion, to avoid having the same discussion in two places. Thanks, Paul Erik (talk)(contribs) 18:05, 23 April 2009 (UTC) e603496d64 This page is more widely-viewed, though, so I personally think it's beneficial to discuss it in a couple places. -Juliancolton | Talk 18:09, 23 April 2009 (UTC) e603496d64 Recently the rules regarding AfD's were changed to enforce the seven day rule more efficiently. Apparently this was also extended to Prods, per a discussion here, which didn't generate very many opinions. Since then the rules regarding prods have also been updated to enforce this seven day rule. While I'm not completely against the idea (I just see it as unnecessary), the discussion wasn't well known about, so I'm posting here to get more opinions. Part of that proposal expresses better than I could what I mean, and more. My favourite quote: ::Categories help users browse through similar articles. When you remove a redundant categorization, you make it much harder to browse through similar articles. e603496d64
