== Background == 0470740f2f The word "cottage", usually meaning a small, cosy, countryside home, is documented as having been in use during the Victorian era to refer to a public toilet and by the 1960s its use in this sense had become an exclusively homosexual slang term. This usage is predominantly British, though the term is occasionally used with the same meaning in other parts of the world. Among gay men in the United States in the early 1970s, lavatories used for this purpose were called tea rooms. 0470740f2f It is connected to another of Aristotle's practical works, Politics, which reflects a similar goal: for people to become good, through the creation and maintenance of social institutions. Ethics is about how individuals... 0470740f2f

Spoiler (media) Typically, the conclusion of a plot, including the climax and ending, is regarded as highly susceptible to spoilers. Any narrative medium can produce spoilers, although they are usually associated with movies and television shows. Some people attempt to avoid being "spoiled" while others seek out spoilers to learn as much as possible about a narrative before experiencing it. Andrew Jarecki argued that Wikipedia should have spoiler alerts; the ending of Catfish, a documentary he had produced, was posted on Wikipedia A spoiler is an element of a disseminated summary or description of a media narrative that reveals significant plot elements, with the implication that the experience of discovering the plot naturally, as the creator intended it, has been robbed ("spoiled") of its full effect. The Mousetrap. Plot twists are also prone to spoilers. Spoilers have become more common in the present day with the rise of social media, which provides an outlet for people to spread spoilers 0470740f2f

Nicomachean Ethics a virtuous mean, how is that mean identified. And how is that translated into action—how does knowledge become choice. The work is essential for the interpretation of Aristotelian ethics. It consists of ten sections, referred to as books, and is closely related to Aristotle's Eudemian Ethics. Recognizing the mean means recognizing The Nicomachean Ethics (; Ancient Greek: Ἠθικὰ Νικομάχεια, Ēthika Nikomacheia) is Aristotle's best-known work on ethics: the science of the good for human life, that which is the goal or end at which all our actions aim 0470740f2f

== Plot == 0470740f2f The series follows employees of Lumon Industries, a biotechnology corporation that uses a medical procedure called "severance" to separate the memories of their employees: at work, Lumon employees, called "innies", can't remember anything outside of work. Outside work, Lumon employees, called "outies", can't remember anything about work. As a result, innies and outies experience two different lives, with distinct personalities and agendas. In the episode, Helly tries to get her "outie" to accept her resignation request, while Petey struggles to differentiate the present from the past. 0470740f2f The text centers upon the question of how to best live, a theme previously explored in the works of Plato, Aristotle's friend and teacher. In Aristotle's Metaphysics, he describes how Socrates, the friend and teacher of Plato, turned philosophy to human questions, whereas pre-Socratic philosophy had only been theoretical and concerned with natural science. Ethics, Aristotle claimed, is practical rather than theoretical, in the Aristotelian senses of these terms. It is not merely an investigation into what good consists of, but it aims to be of practical help in achieving the good. 0470740f2f == Plot == 0470740f2f Mark (Adam Scott) checks on Petey (Yul Vazquez), whose memories have been affected as he struggles to differentiate the present from the past.
