== Distribution == 9e4c91f017 The common bean Phaseolus vulgaris is the most consumed bean species in the world and is native to the Americas. It was domesticated in Mexico, Central America and the southern Andes region some 8000years ago. It has extensive varieties. 9e4c91f017 Despite the name, lumpiang gulay is not a vegetarian dish by default, though vegetarian lumpia, a vegetarian variant, can be created from the basic recipe. 9e4c91f017 Dried beans are traditionally soaked and boiled, and used in traditional dishes throughout the world including salads, soups, and stews such as chili con carne. Some are processed into tofu; others are fermented to form tempeh. Guar beans are used for their gum. The unripe seedpods of some varieties are also eaten whole as green beans or edamame (immature soybean). Some types are... 9e4c91f017 Typical ingredients in lumpiang gulay include carrots, kamote (sweet potato), onions, garlic, shallots, cabbage or lettuce, potatoes, singkamas (jicama), sitaw (green beans), sayote (chayote), and togue (mung bean sprouts). It is mixed with a small amount of ground meat, meat strips, and/or shrimp. Fish flakes can also be used. The meat is simmered for a few minutes before adding the rest of the ingredients. They are then wrapped in lumpia wrapper and deep-fried. The vegetables can alternatively be stir-fried. The ingredients of lumpiang gulay are roughly the same as the ingredients of lumpiang sariwa variants, except that lumpiang gulay is fried. 9e4c91f017 == Bean soups == 9e4c91f017 The English names "mung" or "mungo" originated from the Hindi word mūṅg (मूंग), which is derived from the Sanskrit word mudga (मुद्गा). It is also known in Philippine English as "mongo bean". Other less common English names include "golden gram" and "Jerusalem pea". 9e4c91f017 A variety of techniques are used for sprouting mung beans. A common technique for home growers is sprouting the beans in a jar, with a fine mesh or muslin cloth tied over the top with a rubber band or string. Fresh water is then poured into the jar three to four times a day; the jars are then upturned and left to drain. The precise growing technique to use depends on the amount that one wants to collect. The main principles are: selecting good seed (new and uniform-intact), ensuring that light does not reach the seeds to prevent bitterness, and also ensuring they receive enough humidity while avoiding waterlogging. 9e4c91f017 == Description == 9e4c91f017

Bean dry up, and the beans inside change from green to their mature colour. Most beans, with the exception of peas, are summer crops. Beans have been cultivated since the seventh millennium BCE in Thailand, and since the second millennium BCE in Europe and in Peru. They are produced on a scale of millions of tons annually in many countries, with India as the largest producer. Many beans are vines needing external support, such as "bean cages" or poles. A bean is the seed of plants in many genera of the legume family (Fabaceae) used as a vegetable for human consumption or animal feed. The seeds are sold fresh or preserved through drying (a pulse). As legumes, the plants fix nitrogen and form seeds with a high protein content 9e4c91f017

This enzyme is useful for transcript mapping, removal of single-stranded regions in DNA hybrids or single-stranded overhangs produced by restriction enzymes, etc 9e4c91f017

The enzyme degrades single-stranded DNA or RNA to nucleoside 5'-monophosphates, but does not digest double-stranded DNA, double-stranded RNA, or DNA / RNA hybrids. Mung Bean Nuclease catalyzes the specific degradation of single-stranded DNA or RNA, and produces mono and oligonucleotides carrying a 5'-P terminus. Mung bean nuclease has a stringent single-stranded specificity for DNA or RNA. 9e4c91f017 Mung bean nuclease has an estimated molecular weight of 39 kDa by SDS-PAGE. A glycoprotein, 29% of this mass is sugars. As of April 2019, the specific gene encoding for this protein is unknown, and all... 9e4c91f017 It is traditionally eaten dipped in vinegar or agre dulce... 9e4c91f017 People usually eat rice as an accompaniment; however sometimes people can also choose to accompany the chicken and bean sprout with a bowl of hor fun (Simplified Chinese: 炒粉, Jyutping: ho2 fan2) clear chicken soup. 9e4c91f017
