It's All Coming Back to Me Now Steinman won a court case that prevented Meat Loaf from recording it. Meat Loaf, who had collaborated with Steinman on many of his hit songs, had wanted to record the track for years, but Steinman refused, saying he viewed it as a "woman's song". Girl group Pandora's Box recorded the first released version, and the song later became widely known through a cover by Celine Dion, which upset Meat Loaf because he had planned to use it for an album with the working title Bat Out of Hell III. According to Steinman, the song was inspired by Wuthering Heights and was "It's All Coming Back to Me Now" is a power ballad written by Jim Steinman.
