global public health importance. A systematic review in 2020 showed that the incidence rate of TBI due to sports in hospitalized settings was between 3.5 to 31.5 per 100,000 persons, while a community-based analysis had a much higher incidence rate of 170 per 100,000 persons, which shows significant underestimation in the data from hospitals only. insight into the effects of horror filmmaking on the psyche.
