

What Do Stink Bugs Smell Like

== Plot == 5562e34764 The show is about a dog named Dudley Puppy, who works as a spy for T.U.F.F. HQ. His partner is Kitty Katswell, a cat. Other helpers are The Chief and Keswick. The setting is the fictional city of Petropolis (distinct from Petrópolis, Brazil), populated by anthropomorphic animals. As a member of T.U.F.F. HQ, Dudley helps Kitty protect Petropolis from villains including Verminious Snaptrap, The Chameleon, Bird Brain, Larry, Ollie, Francisco, Zippy, Owl, Bad Dog, and Skunk. 5562e34764 == Characters == 5562e34764 Roughly similar concepts integrating odor experiences into entertainment performances date back at least to 1868 for live theatre, with the first film usage in 1906. Other approaches include General Electric's "Smell-O-Rama" in 1953 and the rival "AromaRama" system in 1959. In cheeky homage to this era, John Waters enhanced his 1981 film Polyester with an "Odorama" scratch-n-sniff card. 5562e34764 Pepé Le Pew has been criticized by a vocal few for portraying the pursuit and harassment of unwilling female characters as comedy, with his behavior often interpreted as stalking or implying sexual assault. His exaggerated accent, mannerisms, and romantic behavior have also been criticized by some for reinforcing national and cultural stereotypes of French men as overly amorous and sexually aggressive. 5562e34764

Skunk has historic use as an insult, attested from 1841. 5562e34764 In 1634, a skunk was described in The Jesuit Relations: 5562e34764 While related to polecats and other members of the weasel family, skunks have as their closest relatives the Old World stink badgers. 5562e34764 == Premise == 5562e34764 == History == 5562e34764 == Series overview == 5562e34764

Smell-O-Vision , son of film producer Mike Todd. Created Smell-O-Vision was a system that released odor during the projection of a film so that the viewer could "smell" what was happening in the movie. The process injected 30 odors into a movie theater's seats when triggered by the film's soundtrack. Created by Hans Laube, the technique made its only appearance in the 1960 film Scent of Mystery, produced by Mike Todd Jr. Smell-O-Vision was a system that released odor during Ty and Abby are a teenage brother-and-sister crime-fighting team who report to the Bureau of Grossology, a secret government agency whose job is to investigate gross criminals and phenomena. Each episode of the series follows the pair on adventures based on real scientific facts. Aided by their friend Lab Rat (a tech specialist and a lab researcher), their boss, the Director, and their police liaison, The Detective, Ty and Abby work to keep the city safe, all while keeping their identities hidden. The show's continuity is not necessarily dependent on the order in which the episodes aired. In the first episode aired ("Gets Lost In Space"), Arnold mentions that the class has already been inside a rotten log ("Meets the Rot Squad") and to the bottom of the ocean (various episodes, including "Gets Eaten", "Blows Its Top", and "Ups and Downs").

Eleodes species range from about 10 to 50 millimetres (0.39 to 1.97 in) in length and are black, with some having a reddish tint on their abdomen. The setae of some species such as Eleodes osculans collect debris and give the insect a brown color, a similar effect occurs in the species Eleodes mirabilis giving it the appearance of having whitish stripes on its abdomen. Due to the number of species and their large range these beetles have a fairly varied appearance throughout the many species. All produce quinone or similar substances as a deterrent to predators, and many will stand on their heads to spray it. They are typically found in the arid desert regions of their range, but can also be found in forests and grasslands... 5562e34764
