Environmental Technology Verification Program In 2007, an ETV International Working Group was formed to work on the convergence of the different programs towards mutual recognition. Environmental Technology Verification (ETV) consists of the verification of the performance of environmental technologies through testing using established Environmental Technology Verification (ETV) consists of the verification of the performance of environmental technologies through testing using established protocols or specific requirements. The group's work led to a request for drafting an ETV ISO standard, resulting in establishing an ISO working group under Technical Committee 207 (Environmental Management), Sub-committee 4, Working Group 5 - Environmental Technology Verification (ISO/TC 207/SC 4/WG 5). These programs are organized through government initiatives, with the United States of America and Canada being among the pioneers. Other programs are being run in South Korea,

Japan, Bangladesh, Denmark, France, Europe, the Philippines, and China. This process is carried out by qualified third parties, and several ETV programs are being run worldwide. However, each program has its own definitions, structure and procedures, and programs are not always compatible with one another. The group's motto was Verified once, verified everywhere. The ISO standard will have the number ISO/NP 14034 once completed f48e13511c
