The album was recorded in late 1971, featuring music composed by Anderson and arranged with contributions from all band members. It marked the first appearance of drummer Barrie "Barriemore" Barlow, who replaced the band's previous drummer Clive Bunker. Musically, Thick as a Brick features an intricate suite of progressive rock, characterized by complex musical structures and frequent time signature changes, incorporating elements of art rock, folk and classical music. The album's lyrics draw partly on Anderson's childhood experiences and explore coming-of-age themes including conformity and intergenerational... e3911594bc A scheduled monument is a nationally important archaeological site or monument which is given legal protection by being placed on a list (or "schedule") by the Secretary of State for Culture, Media and Sport; English Heritage takes the leading role in identifying such sites. == Background == e3911594bc Brick Bradford achieved its greatest popularity outside the United States. The series was carried by both newspapers and comic books in Australia and New Zealand. In France the strip was known as Luc Bradefer ("Luke Ironarm") and was published in many newspapers. The strip was also widely published in Italy where it was known variously as Giorgio Ventura and Marco Spada and in Greece in the newspaper Ethnos (as Princess Palona) during the 1960s. In Sweden it was known as "Tom Trick". In Yugoslavia the strip was published in a dozen different magazines since 1935. e3911594bc

List of scheduled monuments in Sedgemoor It lies close to sea level south of the Polden Hills, forming a large part of the Somerset Levels and Moors, a wetland area between the Mendips and the Blackdown Hills. In the Roman period sea salt was extracted and a string of settlements were set up along the Polden Hills. Several settlements and hill forts were built on the natural "islands" of slightly raised land, including Brent Knoll and Glastonbury. The Neolithic people exploited the reed swamps for their natural resources and started to construct wooden trackways, including the world's oldest known timber trackway, the Post Track, dating to the 3800s BC. The Levels were the location of the Iron Age Glastonbury Lake Village as well as two lake villages at Meare Lake. scheduled monument is a nationally important archaeological site or monument which is given legal protection by being placed on a list (or "schedule") Sedgemoor is a low-lying area of land in Somerset, England e3911594bc

The area is administered by three unitary authorities. Two of them were established on 1 April 1996 following the breakup of the county of Avon; they are North Somerset and Bath and North East Somerset. These unitary authorities include areas that were once part of Somerset before the creation of Avon in 1974. e3911594bc The dispute attracted broader attention in May 2026 after Schneider published a series of YouTube videos investigating the matter and criticizing BAM and the American Fork Police Department in Utah, which had become involved during his investigation. Schneider alleged that the company had attempted to illegally repossess Mansell's collection and police officers had attempted to cover up the incident, while BAM and the police department disputed his characterization of events. Schneider was arrested following activities... e3911594bc A scheduled monument is a nationally important archaeological site or monument which is given legal protection by being placed on a list (or "schedule") by the Secretary of State for Culture, Media and Sport; English Heritage takes the leading role in identifying such sites.
