In April and June they extended the tour into November 2022, with dates added... == The Title == After drinking from Faith, Angelus pulls away in shock as she flashes back to earlier, when she injected herself with a drug stolen from a vampire junkie at the demon bar. Angelus and Faith both collapse, unconscious. Gunn drags Angelus's body to the Hyperion Hotel, where he and Connor shackle Angelus securely in the basement cage. Wesley brings a barely alive Faith to one of the hotel bedrooms. Knowing Faith injected herself with Orpheus, an enchanted psychedelic drug that poses a serious threat to her... Ray tells Debra that the doctor told him his adenoids have to come out. Debra tells him that it's a routine procedure and Ray is appalled at Debra's lack of concern for his well-being. Ray gives Debra a hard time over the course of the next week, fretting about his upcoming surgery. On the day of the operation, Ray goes into surgery as the family waits in the waiting room. A few moments after Marie leaves to go to the bathroom, a nurse enters the waiting room and tells Debra that they are having trouble bringing Ray out of the anesthesia, causing everyone (minus Marie) to panic. Just before Robert walks through the door, the doctor emerges and says that Ray is awake and that it occasionally happens due to hypertension. Everyone is relieved and agrees that they can't tell Ray or Marie about what happened. == References == == Background == The episode features cover versions of seven songs, five of which were released as singles, available for digital download, and three of which are included on the soundtrack album Glee: The Music, Volume 3 Showstoppers. The purpose of vocal rest is to hasten recovery time. It is believed that vocal rest, along with rehydration, will significantly decrease recovery time after a cold. It is generally believed that if one needs to communicate one should speak and not whisper. The reasons for this differ; some believe that whispering merely does not allow the voice to rest and may have a dehydrating effect, while others hold that whispering can cause additional stress to the larynx. The episode's title, "Murtaugh," is a reference to the character Roger Murtaugh from the Lethal Weapon film series, played by Danny Glover. The character is known for frequently saying the line, "I'm too old for this," which parallels the theme of the episode where Ted creates a "Murtaugh List" of activities he believes he is too old to do. It has been noted that with this tour, the band is "taking their most intricate – and certainly least commercially viable – material to their biggest-ever shows."
