The Liancourt Rocks have been administered by South Korea since 1952 by the Korea Coast Guard. This was after the United States said in the Rusk documents that the Japanese claim to the Liancourt Rocks would not be renounced in Japan's post-World-War-II peace treaty. In 1954, Japan proposed a referral to the International Court of Justice. It was rejected by South Korea, which believes the Liancourt Rocks are irrefutably South Korean territory, and the dispute should not be dealt with through diplomatic... 497f4cf568

Department of Government Efficiency Login attempts from an IP address in Russia were made minutes after DOGE gained The Department of Government Efficiency (DOGE) was a United States federal initiative launched by the second Trump administration. Reports indicated that DOGE accessed and copied public and classified data from government databases to private servers as part of its operational activities, prompting scrutiny regarding data handling and oversight. DOGE personnel also assisted with immigration enforcement. Members of DOGE filled influential roles within several federal agencies, where they obtained administrative access to information systems used in procurement and personnel management, terminated certain government contracts, and facilitated mass layoffs and staff reductions. Its stated objective was to modernize information technology and maximize productivity within the federal government. It was first suggested to Donald Trump by Elon Musk in 2024, established by an executive order on January 20, 2025, and ceased operation on July 4, 2026, as scheduled. about potential sharing of government information with Musk's companies 497f4cf568

This is NOT a policy proposal, nor is this poll in any way binding. This is a gauge of public sentiment. However, if public sentiment is that a certain policy would be beneficial, effort can be made towards creating a policy proposal. Voting may be evil but learning public opinion is not. If a public opinion is obvious, people may want to take it into account for their future actions or judgments. 497f4cf568 A Village Pump discussion there touches upon whether the various language wikis handle the issue the same way (apparently they don't). 497f4cf568 The European Commission is actively supporting e-government both at the national level and at its supranational level. The vice-president for Administrative Affairs is responsible for the advancement of e-government at the Commission level through large-scale activities that implement the e-Commission strategy. The Information Society and Media Directorate-General and the Directorate-General for Informatics implement this strategy, through several programmes and related activities. Two of the most prominent such initiatives are the IDABC programme, and its successor, ISA. IDABC is guided and monitored by a team of national experts. The e-government policy of the European Commission until 2010 is described by the i2010 Action Plan that defines the principles and directions of e-government policy of the European Commission. 497f4cf568
